Event Objective

- The primary objective of the Industry Mentor Meet 1.0 was to bridge the gap between industry professionals and students. The event aimed to enhance the skill set of students and provide them with insights into the technology sector, encouraging their professional growth.

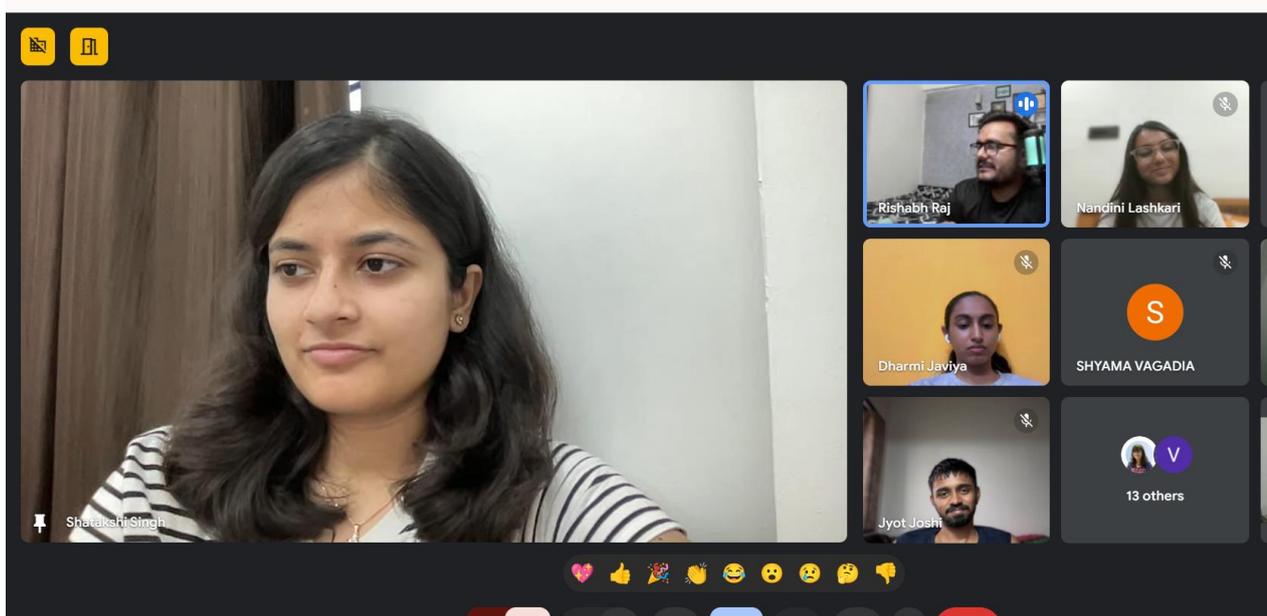

Event Overview

- The meet featured esteemed speakers, Ms. Satakshi Singh, a Data Engineer at Lowe's and Chair of the IEEE Young Professionals Delhi Section, and Mr. Rishabh Raj, a Software Developer at Cubasian Consulting and Vice Chair of the IEEE Young Professionals Delhi Section.
 - The session commenced with introductions from the speakers. Satakshi shared her experiences as an IEEE member, emphasizing how involvement in the organization shapes careers in technology and provides essential resources and networking opportunities.
 - Rishabh followed with a discussion on the significance of innovation. He inspired students to focus on identifying everyday problems and encouraged them to develop innovative solutions.
- Additionally, Satakshi provided valuable information on scholarships
- and grants available for IEEE volunteers, enhancing the session's value for attendees.

Conclusion

The Industry Mentor Meet 1.0 was a highly engaging and fruitful session, successfully connecting students with industry professionals. The insights shared by Satakshi and Rishabh motivated students and equipped them with practical knowledge for their future careers in technology. The IEEE WIE MEFGI Student Branch looks forward to organizing more such events to foster professional growth and networking opportunities for students.
